I work in Tiptonville, TN at the Lake County High School. I use technology every day. I use the computer to create lesson plans, I use my Promethean board with students to interact with lessons, I use IPADS daily for research with seniors and freshmen, I use computers daily for Dual Credit students, I use the internet daily for my communication with my administrators, I use the internet for students who don't have books to read online text, I am currently working on a new reading program called Language Live - my students will use the program three days per week. Those are just a few of the things I use the internet and computers for; I could probably list several more things, but am out of time!
